

Do Not Bring Your Dragon to the Library

By Andy Elkerton

HAVE FUN!

Discuss

Talk through your thoughts.

- Before reading: think about what you already know about the library. Can you name some of the rules we should follow when we're at the library?
- After reading: think about all of the fun activities the author wrote about that the library has to offer. What are your favorite things to do at the library?

Create

Make an experience of your own.

- In the book, we see dragons of all shapes, sizes, and colors. Draw a picture of your own pet dragon. What would its name be?
- Since dragons are not allowed at the library, make your own story to read to your pet dragon.

Imagine

Use your imagination to explore.

- Imagine you are one of the dragons in the book. Which one would you be? Which activity in the library would be your favorite thing to do? Why?
- Imagine you are a librarian and a dragon came into your library! Since the dragon is not allowed in the library, he should take a book home to read instead. What book would you recommend the dragon should read? Why?

Imaginando

Discutiendo. Creando. Explorando.

- Haz un dibujo o actua tu parte favorita del libro.
- Comenta con alguien los ideas principales del libro.
- Crea un juego de palabras correspondientes con palabras del libro.
- Practica leyendo el libro con diferentes voces (bajo, alto, chistoso, lentamente, en una cancion).
- Escribe una carta a un personaje de un libro o escríbele al autor.
- Visita tu biblioteca publica y hazte socio de un club de lectura.
